BLANCO Unveils UNIT Inspirations to Streamline Kitchen Design and Planning

Award-Winning Brand Curates Customizable Kitchen Water Hub Solutions

TORONTO, ON, March 2022 — Kitchen projects continue to lead in popularity for residential renovations with an anticipated industry spending growth of 19% for the second year in a row, forecasted by the National Kitchen & Bath Association. As homeowners invest more into modernizing their kitchens, BLANCO, the premium kitchen solutions brand backed by industry-leading German engineering, is pleased to unveil three inspiring BLANCO UNITs to help streamline the kitchen planning process. A BLANCO UNIT makes it simple to configure an efficient and stylish kitchen water hub with the brand's extensive portfolio of sinks, faucets, accessories and organization systems that integrate into one seamless solution. Curated by BLANCO kitchen experts with over 95 years of experience, these three UNIT concepts are inspired by 2022 interior design and lifestyle trends to simplify renovations and make kitchen life easier.

“Kitchen planning can be a daunting process with big decisions to make. Our BLANCO UNIT inspirations serve as a framework that consumers can customize based on their unique household needs,” states Edyta Drutis, BLANCO’s Director of Brand & Communications for North America. “The integrated system delivers style and performance, transforming everyday chores into more joyful experiences and ultimately optimizing kitchen workflow.”

With streamlined design at the forefront, a beautiful colour-coordinated BLANCO UNIT starts with a Silgranit sink and matching faucet to create a cohesive look. Silgranit’s nature-inspired hues allow you to tailor the level of colour with a kitchen sink and faucet combo that suits your style preferences. Try either full or dual finish offerings available in three distinct faucet styles, all with water saving benefits. Complete the look with the BOTTON II, which adds cabinet organization under the sink. A colour-coordinated BLANCO UNIT empowers total design freedom so you can turn your dream kitchen into design reality.
